Why Choose AVAIN LABS®?

AVAIN LABS® BLOOD LANCET

The AVAIN LABS® Blood Lancet is a high-quality, sterile, single-use lancet designed for safe, accurate, and virtually painless capillary blood sampling. Manufactured using premium medical-grade stainless steel, these disposable blood lancets feature a precision-ground, ultra-sharp needle that ensures smooth skin penetration while minimizing discomfort.

Ideal for blood glucose monitoring, hemoglobin testing, cholesterol testing, and other capillary blood collection procedures, AVAIN LABS® Blood Lancets are compatible with most standard lancing devices. Each lancet is individually sterilized and intended for single use, reducing the risk of cross-contamination and ensuring maximum patient safety.

Supplied in a convenient pack of 100, these lancets are suitable for hospitals, pathology laboratories, diagnostic centers, clinics, blood collection centers, pharmacies, and home healthcare. Designed for reliability, hygiene, and consistent performance, they are an essential consumable for routine blood sampling.
